

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Dr Chris Brauer is Director of IMS at Goldsmiths, University of London and a world leading researcher and public academic in the intersections of human behaviour and emerging technologies. His projects have been featured in over 400 media outlets worldwide including the Financial Times, BBC, CNN and Wall Street Journal.

"A globally respected expert on technologies of the future, and the Digital Revolution"

In detail

Dr. Chris delves into workforce skills, organisational competitiveness and the human implications of artificial intelligence by conducting fieldwork experiments with Microsoft, Automation Anywhere, IBM Watson and IPSoft Amelia. His groundbreaking studies also included benchmarking the cybersecurity vulnerabilities of global corporate leaders with NASDAQ, conducting the world's largest emotion-tracking driving experiment in 13 countries with Shell, revolutionising loyalty with Adobe and pioneering the Science of Common Ground for Heineken's acclaimed Open Your World campaign. Currently, he focuses on resolving the 'productivity paradox,' of organisations struggling to unlock the value of AI to their business and how to integrate digital skills into their workforce.
